

Banner HR Web Page

STHR's has assumed the responsibility and oversight of the Banner HR web page. This has given us an opportunity to step back and really review the contents of this web site. The information has been updated and consolidated and obsolete information has been deleted. We are proud to introduce a site that will provide our Banner HR users with current and accurate information in a user friendly format. We invite you to take a look at the final product! We like it and hope you do as well. Comments and/or suggestions are welcome and can be conveyed by emailing to STHR (see Contacts at the top of the page).
